Silicone breast forms

Anita care prostheses and compensatory cups wonderfully balance out small differences in tissue volume. Full and partial compensatory cups reinstall symmetry in the silhouette. ANITA has the perfect solution here, giving women an all-round, fantastic feeling of confidence. Silicone breast forms are available in all kinds of shapes; some can be combined with a back section that is filled as required to allow gentle correction of the breast that naturally conceals unevenness and offers a perfect fit. Tissue loss and asymmetry are therefore balanced out.

ANITA's breast prostheses and compensatory cups are made entirely from silicone, shaped by a polyurethane film. Both silicone and polyurethane are made from natural base materials. They are extremely skin-friendly and ensure a pleasant feeling of comfort. The ANITA breast forms closely resemble the natural breast in terms of softness and weight.
